DEPUTIES GRAB MEGAN'S LAW VIOLATOR IN WILKINSBURG

PITTSBURGH, PA – Sheriff William P. Mullen announces the apprehension of Clyde Demus, 52 years of age from the Homewood section of the City of Pittsburgh. Demus has been wanted for bond forfeiture at a pre-trial conference in relation to a Failure to Comply with Registration of Sexual Offender Requirements charge.

Demus was charged and convicted of Involuntary Deviate Sexual Intercourse, Indecent Assault and Rape in 1994. Due to his sentencing as a Tier 3 offender, he must register as such for the term of his entire life. Demus was charged with a second Failure to Register the day before the bench warrant was issued.

While investigating Demus' whereabouts the next day, deputies concluded that Demus had been working at a non-registered address, opposed to what he had formerly registered as his place of employment. In addition, deputies made contact with the homeowner of Demus' registered home address and they determined he no longer lived at this address. Upon developing this information, sheriff's deputies filed for an additional Failure to Comply (Megan's Law) warrant for Demus.

Early this morning, sheriff's deputies learned that Demus was staying at an address in the 1000 block of South Avenue in the Borough of Wilkinsburg. At approximately 12:30AM, deputies breached the entrance to the home and found Demus hiding in a first floor bathroom.

Demus has been transported to the Allegheny County Jail, where he was lodged on three warrants, one county bench warrant and two arrest warrants. Demus is being held at the jail without bond as he awaits a new hearing date.
