CORAOPOLIS MAN ON THE RUN FOR FIVE MONTHS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Pittsburgh PA ---- Sheriff Kevin M. Kraus announced today that a Coraopolis man, on the run for the past five months, has been taken into custody.

28-year-old Khalil Faulkner has been a fugitive since March of this year when a bench warrant was issued for a probation violation concerning a 2022 guilty plea to burglary and robbery. Faulkner also has an active arrest warrant out of the City of Pittsburgh for gun and drug charges related to a March traffic stop on Saw Mill Run Boulevard.

Detectives from our office developed information that Faulkner was inside of a residence along East James Street in Homestead. Detectives arrived at the residence Monday morning and after announcing their presence, spoke to the mother of the woman dating Faulkner. She was unsure whether Faulkner was in the house but allowed detectives to search the property. Detectives then spoke with Faulkner's girlfriend who confirmed that he was on the second floor.

Detectives then announced their presence to Faulkner who complied with commands to come downstairs at which time he was taken into custody without incident and transported to the Allegheny County Jail.
